

NONARIT BISONYABUT

Research Fellow

Thailand Development Research Institute

bisonyabut@tdri.or.th

Prior to TDRI, Dr. Nonarit Bisonyabut served as lecturer with Chulalongkorn University and lecturer cum research/teaching assistant with the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He also works with the Subcommittee on Monetary, Fiscal and Government Budget with the Senate of Thailand on a concurrent basis.

His research projects include, among others, Thailand's Middle Income Trap Project: Enhance Innovation System for the Thai Health Promotion Foundation; Ageing Society, Level of Technology and Thailand's Economic Growth: Implications from the Overlapping Generation Model and A Comparative Study of the Efficiency of Thai Industries in Comparison with Their Corresponding Leading World Industries, both for the Thailand Research Fund. He has published several research papers such as Thailand's Inter-industry Macroeconometric Model; Determinants and Impacts of the Outward Foreign Direct Investment on the Development of the Electrical and Electronics Components Industry in Thailand; and, Investment Opportunities and Threats under the ASEAN Comprehensive Investment Agreement, among others.

He holds a Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and Master's degree in Economics from Chulalongkorn University.